Odgers Berndtson Events

To close out Black History Month, on Monday, February 28th, the Washington Office hosted a webinar called "Supporting Black Leaders in 2022 and Beyond." Moderated by Conrad Woody, the panel featured Sherika Ekpo, Chief Diversity and Inclusion Officer for Anaplan and John Ferguson, Senior Vice President and CHRO for NASCAR. Joined by nearly 100 guest including business, human capital and C-Suite Leaders, the conversation informed participants on how to actively support and sustain this black employee population through sponsorship, executive visibility, and strategies to create equity and belonging.

Employee Highlight

My name is Conrad Woody and I've been with Odgers Berndtson for 3 years. I am located in Washington, D.C.. An interesting fact about me, is I grew up as a musician, playing the piano, bass guitar, organ, and drums. I'm an avid supporter of the performing and visual arts."

Best American Destinations for a long weekend

When life-weary humans need a break, there's nothing like a long weekend to soothe the nerves. For those who want something more than spending an extra day in their pajamas, the perfect solution for the extra downtime is a fun getaway. Whether it's panoramic views, romantic accommodations, or tasty cuisine you need, there's no shortage of American destinations that will rejuvenate and replenish your psyche. And, luckily, many of the destinations won't drain your bank account.
